KN95 Mask Drive Thru Giveaway

On February 26, 2022, the Center did a KN95 mask drive-thru giveaway for our senior members. We handed out ten KN95 masks, ten surgical masks, a box of Girl Scout Cookies and one lb. of cha-soba to over 125 seniors. They were very appreciative and happy to receive the bag of goodies.

We would like to thank the SFV Chamber of Commerce for the masks, the Keiro Grant Program for the cookies and Nanka Seimen for the cha-soba.

Thank you to the following who volunteered to help hand out the bags-

2022 SFVJACC Mochi Display Contest Winners

New Year's family gatherings are a cherished tradition for many Japanese American families. Mochitsuki, Ozoni and family make this time special. We know that some of these traditions have been impacted by current events so we wanted to see how people were keeping some of these traditions alive so we held the SFVJACC Mochi Display Contest. Adults and kids submitted a photo of their Kagami Mochi Display creation (real or an artistic version). The event provided an opportunity for people of all skill levels to share their vision of the SFVJACC community and how they represent their culture. The winners each received a $50 Amazon gift card.

Welcome Back Everyone!

Nagasawa Education Scholarship

Growing up from humble beginnings, I was fortunate to have received scholarships and grants to be able to afford my undergraduate and medical school education. There is no greater honor and blessing than to be able to give back to the communities that supported me at the beginning of my academic journey.

I offer my most sincere appreciation to the Japanese-American community for believing in me so many years ago, and am honored to have been highlighted on the Front Page of the San Fernando Valley JACC Newsletter as we launch the Nagasawa Education Scholarship to enhance the opportunities for future leaders in Health Sciences.

Beware of the Gift Card Scams!!

By Roy Imazu

I wish I could stand in front of all of you and shout that I won the Lottery. Unfortunately, the news is not good. I got scammed.

I am writing this advice so that you will be informed and not make the same blunder. The scammers got my attention by blocking my use of my computer. That led to a fictitious report of a charge on my checking account. Removing that charge involved buying gift cards. I did not know about scammers using gift cards.

There were numerous "red flags" that could have been cause for suspicion, but were ignored. Dumb, stupid, naïve, gullible, blind - any one of those adjectives would describe my actions. I feel a great sense of guilt. I am trying to keep a level head and not become totally depressed. Fortunately, I have a very supportive family and a son who is helping me re-construct my financial program by starting a new checking and charge account.

One other incident needs to be mentioned. While waiting in line for service at the Bank of America branch in San Fernando, a lady offered to save my space in line while I sat down instead of standing in line. Another man came over to offer words of encouragement while I stood waiting in line. When he was first in line, he came over to exchange places so I would be next instead of him. He was a total stranger. Did I look that miserable and down-trodden?

Be alert. These scammers are sophisticated. They are students of human behavior.

Here is another example of the gift card scam that happened to another one of our senior members -

The senior received this email from a friend whose email contacts got hacked -

"How are you, I'm ill and need you. Just write me back."

After replying back and asking how she could help, she received this email -

"Thank you, very much. I tested positive for covid and very down. I need you to get an Apple gift card for my niece who is a cancer patient. She has been on wheelchair all her life and it's her birthday but i can't do this now because I'm currently showing symptoms and isolating properly. I would have called you but I'm coughing seriously so I can't even step outside, use the phone well or accept visitors to avoid exposure. I just have to continue my medications.. Can you get it for me from any store around you? I'll pay back as soon as I'm much better. Kindly let me know if you can handle this. Thank you."

Fortunately, the senior told her daughter about the request for the gift card from her "sick friend". Her daughter then asked someone who knew the "sick friend" to see if it was true - which it wasn't... so the senior was spared of being a victim of scammers.

Congratulations to the Judo Winners!

SFVJLI had a T-shirt, School Hoodies, and hats for sale on March 26, 2022. We would like to thank everyone who supported us with purchases and for hanging out in the warm weather to talk about our new plans. Our next event will be the SFVJLI Yard Sale on April 23, 2022, from 9:00 am to 12:00 pm. Donations on April 23rd are welcomed and please come by to see us. At this year's Yard Sale, we will be incorporating some new things - one way in and one way out, with a cashier at a safe distance along with shopping strategies. SFVJLI appreciates SFV Athletics sharing the parking lot with us on the day of their big Pancake Breakfast Fundraiser event, allowing us to host this very important event. We hope to see everybody come out to enjoy Pancake Breakfast and stop by to see our Yard Sale. If you have any donation of items for our Yard Sale on April 23rd, please email: sfvjli@hotmail.com or contact Kiyō Watanabe at (818) 237-8540 and leave a message if you would like to have a callback.

We hope you all stay safe and we hope to see you soon.

SFV Meiji Senior Citizens Club News

By Liz Doomey

It's been two years since the CC closed for the pandemic. The good news is that there is hope with the COVID-19 vaccinations and boosters being administered to the general public that the CC has been able to reopen slowly and safely. We hope everyone was able to get their vaccination and booster for the protection of themselves and others. Our membership has suffered the loss of many members these past few years. We send our condolences to their family and friends. Communication is very important to the board. If you know of a member who is ill or passed away, please contact Ritsuko Shinbashi (818-892-0470) or Kay Yamada (818-763-4861) with the information.

The Meiji Club is still accepting membership applications for $5 per person. Please mail in your information to the Meiji Senior Club, C/O Kay Yamada, 12953 Branford Street, Pacoima, CA 91331 and let her know if you would like to receive the refill two years calendar. She will need your name, address, phone number, email address if you have one, birthdates of each person and an emergency contact including their name and phone number.

Please read the announcement regarding the first Hot Meal lunch of the year on page 5. It will be on April 29th and reservations are required. We look forward to seeing you in person at the Center again.

If your Meiji group; Karaoke, Hanafuda, Mah Jong, Country Western Music, or Harmonica would like to start back up, please contact Kay Yamada (818-763-4861) and fill out the application to be sent in for approval by the Re-opening Committee.

The celebration of our "85 year old's" for 2021 and 2022 is in the planning stages and will be announced after the April board meeting.

We are in need of volunteers to take over the administration of the Las Vegas and Casino trips. Grace Iwamasa and Kay Yamada are stepping down from these positions. If you would like to continue to take these trips and would be able to take the lead with their help, please contact Grace Iwamasa (818-368-9085) or Kay Yamada (818 763-4861).

We have not decided if the Center will continue with our forums on the 2nd and 4th Mondays each month due to the decline of participants. If you are still interested in the virtual programs please contact Lois Okui at lois_okui@sfvjacc.com or Liz Doomey at liz_doomey@sfvjacc.com and we will try to accommodate all who are still interested. We just started a Movie Review Club that meets virtually on the first Monday of each month from 10:30 to 11:30 AM. A movie is selected by participants (majority rules) and we discuss it at the next virtual meeting.

VETERANS MEMORIAL DAY SERVICE TO BE HELD AT THE CENTER

SFVJACC will be having an in-person Memorial Service this year. Please join us for the Memorial Day Service to be held in honor of the deceased veterans of the San Fernando Valley.

The service will be held on Sunday, May 29, 2022. As in the past, all CC organizations, families of deceased veterans listed on the Memorial, all veterans and the community are invited to observe this event.

Community Center members are asked to submit names of deceased veterans so that their names may be engraved on the memorial plaques located in the Kiyoshi Muranaga Veterans Memorial Garden. Qualifications include: service in any branch of the armed forces, served at any time in war or peace and any family member must be a resident of the San Fernando Valley. Please call Lois Okui at (818) 515-8287 or email lois_okui@sfvjacc.com Note: Due to the pandemic, we have not been able to have names of the deceased veterans from the last three years engraved on the memorial plaques.

Organizations are asked to give the name of the individual representing the organization. Families of the deceased are asked to call and let us know if they will be attending the services.

Sunday, May 29, 2022 ★ 5:00 PM

12953 Branford Street, Pacoima, CA 91331 ★ In the Dr. Sanbo Sakaguchi Hall.

Dinner will be served following the service.

Reservations are required so please contact Lois Okui at (818) 515-8287 or email lois_okui@sfvjacc.com. or Liz Doomey at (818) 429-4096 or lizdoomey@yahoo.com by May 20, 2022.

For donations and remembrances, please make donation payable to SFVJACC-Veterans Fund.

Romance

By Old Wakaba, Bud Sagara

The human brain is an amazing organ. It's working every waking second of the day, analyzing sensory data, storing information and making critical decisions all for our best interest. It does this continually from our birth until we cease to be. But when we meet that special someone, our trustworthy brain goes incredibly goofy. The whole concept of romance just resonates with me. During our coronavirus stay-at-home times, my wife and I have really enjoyed Korean serial romance dramas. They provide a comforting escape from this messed world we live in by taking us to a realm where love conquers all. Emotions soar and crash through the episodes as the OTP (one true pairing) haltingly open themselves up to the other to expose their fears, hurts, and flaws in the hope that the other would somehow find them worthy of love. Chinese philosopher Lao Tzu sums up the lovers' journey, "Being deeply loved by someone gives you strength, while loving someone deeply gives you courage."

In our culture, the term "romance" conjures up different personal meanings for each couple. The classics are flowers, candlelight dinners, walks under starlit skies, and quiet conversations. From Sleepless in Seattle, "Well, it was a million tiny things that, when you added them all up, they meant we were supposed to be together. I knew it the first time I touched her. It was like coming home, only to no home I'd ever known. I was just taking her hand to help her out of a car and I knew. It was like...magic." As the years go by, it seems like heart fluttering romance movies are less common. They just don't make movies like they used to. From City of Angels, "I would rather have had one breath of her hair, one kiss from her mouth, one touch of her hand, than eternity without it."

Single people in this digital era use dating apps on their phones with their sophisticated algorithms to scientifically find a perfect match. One's fate in this dating scene hinges on a simple swipe right or swipe left. These dating apps have drastically changed the way people meet and have essentially altered the human experience. With so many people to choose from online, there is always the possibility of finding someone better. People have become addicted to the idea of endless choices and are brainwashed to think that the grass is greener one swipe away. Gone are the meaningful, sometimes heartbreaking person-to-person interactions that my generations grew up with. They have been replaced by systematic cyber meets, where it is easy to hide behind a digital screen and not put ones heart out on the line. Call me old fashioned, but I prefer to meet people in real life. From Casablanca, "Of all the gin joints, in all the towns, in all the world, she had to walk into mine."

In the distant past, marriages were arranged without input from the prospective bride and groom. The parents of the prospective bride and groom would make all the arrangements with possibly the exchange of cattle or sheep. My grandparents dutifully married whom they were told to by their parents and they enjoyed a long marriage together. I've been told that my grandmother was an active marriage go-between. A go-between introduced my parents to each other after the war, but they had the option to refuse the match. Good thing they gave their OK or my siblings and I wouldn't have been here.

It might be pure nostalgia and a rose-colored look back at our past, but it seems to me that meeting the love of your life used to be less complicated. Times were simpler and more direct then because one had to muster the courage to go up to an attractive person and actually talk to them, get to know them and establish some kind of relationship with them. From Notting Hill, "I'm also just a girl, standing in front of a boy, asking him to love her."

I read a cute meet story about a woman's aunt and uncle back in the 1950's. Her aunt was working in the library at a local university where her uncle was an architecture student there. Although he was very shy and a man of few words, he just knew he had to find a way to meet this beautiful young woman. So he decided to check out books from the library everyday so he would have the opportunity to talk to her. After weeks of checking out books, there was a huge stack of books in his dorm room and some of them were overdue! She would probably think that he is an irresponsible, forgetful fool! Upon sadly lugging a stack of books back to the library, he expected the worst. The young woman looked at the stack of overdue books, smiled and told the young man, "I might overlook these overdue fines if you would asked me out to dinner." They've been married for 64 years with a love that's still going strong. From Jerry Maguire, "You had me at hello."

So were we better off in the days of land lines and blind dates than we are now with dating apps? So what is this thing called love that people are so desperate to find? The Apostle Paul wrote in 1 Corinthians 13: 4-7 a concise description of what true love is: "Love is patient and kind; love does not envy or boast; it is not arrogant or rude. It does not insist on its own way; it is not irritable or resentful; it does not rejoice at wrongdoing, but rejoices with the truth. Love bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things." God's love is directed outward toward others, not inward toward ourselves. This love is utterly unselfish, goes against all our natural tendencies and expects nothing in return. That's why we need God's help to set aside our self-centeredness so that we can love others in the way he loves us. We can meet hundreds of people and none of them really touches us until we meet that one special person who changes our lives forever. This is what happens when we meet Jesus Christ and follow Him.

OKI:
Music of the Ainu

JAMES IRVINE JAPANESE GARDEN
 SUNDAY - MAY 1st, 2022

Okī Kano, known professionally as OKI, is a leading musician of Ainu music—the music of Japan’s northernmost indigenous people. Born to a Japanese mother and an Ainu father, OKI has recovered and recreated traditional music on the tonkori, a stringed instrument of the Ainu people of Karafuto (a region also known as Sakhalin). The rich, reverberating twang of the tonkori strings, which are traditionally made from deer tendons, allowed Ainu shamans to communicate with spirits that control the wind, rain and other natural phenomena called kamuy. OKI is featured in the film Ainu Mosir (2020), currently streaming on Netflix.

Add on a casual meal that complements the unique and exquisite flavors of Hokkaido. JACCC Resident Chef Chis Ono will prepare a seasonal menu that evokes the flavors of legendary seafood and other unique artisanal dishes. Prepare for an evening that offers unique entertainment with specialty foods.
